NO IMPROVEMENTS AT PRESENT RATES

Apperson Declares Railroads Are Losing Money Under Reduced Freight Tariffs.

That the question of whether the Denver & Rio Grande will construct new railroad yards and shops on the old Church farm property south of the city practically depends on the requested increase of 5 per cent east of the Mississippi river and the old freight rates west of the river that were in force before the reduction by the interstate commerce commission, was stated yesterday by A. B. Apperson, general superintendent of the Denver & Rio Grande.

Mr. Apperson declares that it is a conceded fact that under present tariffs nearly every railroad in the country is losing money and that improvements cannot be made unless the roads are permitted to increase their earnings. He says that the lowered rates have not in the least benefited the consumers during the two trial years they were in force.

PUBLICITY BUREAU TO BE GIVEN HELP

Commercial Club Will Render Assistance in Advertising Fund Campaign.

All activities of the Commercial club will be suspended next week and the organization will join with the publicity bureau in carrying on the advertising fund campaign. President W. F. Jensen announced yesterday that there would be no meetings of committees or of the board of governors next week, but that the governors, committee chairman and members would be expected to attend the daily luncheons of the publicity bureau campaign committee and take an interest in the raising of the publicity fund.

The second luncheon of the subscription committee was held yesterday. At the conclusion of the meeting, Chairman Charles Tyng announced that the first day's work was not even fairly organized, had netted the sum of $702. The largest single contribution came from Manager George O. Reif of the Hotel Utah, who sent a check to Chairman Tyng for $500.

The work of organization was continued yesterday and will be completed at today's luncheon. Next week the campaign will be carried on at high pressure. Cards of credentials to the workers who are soliciting subscriptions were issued yesterday. They are signed by President W. F. Jensen and Secretary Will G. Farrell of the Commercial club and Chairman Charles Tyng of the publicity bureau board of governors. Those who are working for subscriptions include some of the most prominent business men of the city and all the aid is being contributed "for the good of the cause."

J. C. Wyatt of the Senlo hotel was one of the principal speakers at yesterday's luncheon. Mr. Wyatt told the committee of the possibilities of publicity and suggested a number of lines which he considered advisable for Salt Lake. Mr. Wyatt tendered his services to the committee, volunteering to do anything he could to help in the campaign for the joint advertising fund.

The daily luncheons next week will be in the main dining room of the club and everyone in Salt Lake who is interested in the advertising of the city and state is invited to be present and discuss the progress of the campaign.

Use Cottolene on the testimony of the past

The first pure food display of Cottolene which attracted more than National attention was at the World's Fair, in Chicago in 1893.

That meant that Cottolene had then been known well enough and long enough to have its place in the homes of America.

Since then it is fair to say that Cottolene has revolutionized and bettered cooking in hundreds of thousands of homes.

Cottolene

is imitated—of course—but is unequalled. Any woman who knows it and uses it will tell you that it more than takes the place of butter or lard for shortening and frying.

Remember that you use one-third less Cottolene than you do of butter or lard.

Write us today for our FREE Cook Book, filled with splendid recipes by the most famous experts. Tell your dealer to send you a pail of Cottolene, follow the simple instructions and the results will be so gratifying that you will never go back to old fashioned, wasteful cooking fats.

DEFINITION OF MEAL PUZZLES COMMISSION

W. H. Shearman Believes a Sandwich and a Glass of Beer Are Sufficient.

An amendment to the city liquor ordinance making it unlawful to sell liquor in cafes and restaurants unless a regular meal is ordered, and defining the nature of the meal, was introduced at the city commission meeting yesterday by Mayor Samuel C. Park. After some discussion it was referred to the committee of the whole for consideration.

The amendment was drafted in the law department for the specific purpose of putting an end to the sale of liquor in cafes where only potato chips or some substitute are served as meals.

Mayor Park explained that the state law does not define a meal and that the ordinance is designed to make a specific definition of the term, providing that it shall consist of meat and vegetables and other articles of food.

Commissioner W. H. Shearman objected to such a sumptuous definition.

"Suppose I want to drop into a cafe after the theater and get a sandwich and a glass of beer. Under this ordinance I could not do so without making the proprietor violate the law," he said. "People do not always want a full meal after the theater. Just a sandwich and a glass of beer suits their fancy best."

Heber M. Wells, commissioner of parks and public property, said he believed the ordinance somewhat drastic. A motion was made to refer it to the committee of the whole, and this was done.

Makes Healthy Bowels

THIS simple rule of health is daily called attention to by every doctor in the land, whose first question to the patient almost invariably is, "Are your bowels regular?" Yet there's not one person in fifty who takes proper care of the bowels. And the result of this foolish neglect is nine-tenths of all ill-health. If today you are unable to free your body of waste matter at the usual time, or if the act causes straining, pains and discomfort, don't let that condition occur again tomorrow. Unless your bowels can carry away the waste materials left after food is digested, decay sets in, the poisons of which, taken up by the blood, increase the risk of Typhoid Fever, Appendicitis, and many other serious diseases. In treating constipation, there is a right way and a wrong way. The wrong way is to take harsh purgatives which even though they do clear the bowels, cause griping and nausea, injure the delicate tissues, and so disturb the normal functions as to cause the return of constipation. The right way is to help Nature to produce natural movement, without pain or discomfort, by using

Rexall Orderlies

More Than One Hundred Million Were Sold Last Year

This enormous quantity was used with good results by busy men who suffered from constipation, due to lack of exercise, or indigestion caused by overwork—by children whose parents realize the harmful effect of common purgatives—by old people whose systems cannot stand anything harsh—by women during pregnancy, and after childbirth, when any medicine with a violent action would be particularly dangerous. Many of these people are your neighbors and friends. Ask anyone who has ever used them—they'll tell you Rexall Orderlies satisfied and helped them.

—a gentle laxative in the form of a chocolate-tasting tablet. One of these tablets eaten just before going to bed will help to restore your bowels to normal activity at a time when, your body being at rest, the medicine can do its best work. As a result of taking that tablet (or say two, if your case is obstinate), your bowels will move easily and naturally in the morning. The use of Rexall Orderlies for a few days afterward will restore normal regularity. Even chronic constipation is benefited by them, and it is not necessary to continue the treatment for a long time, because, instead of driving Nature, they simply help her to help herself.
